Tissue Mosaic Squares

1. Starting at the top of your frame, peel back 2/3 of the paper liner and fold down. This allows you to do the sky first, without getting any blue tissue onto the grass area.
2. Crumple yellow Tissue Squares into small balls, and stick them close together in one top corner, forming a sun.
3. Crumple white Tissue Squares into small balls, and stick them close together in two places, forming 2 clouds.
4. Now take lots of light blue Tissue Squares and cover the rest of the surface of the sky with these. (Do not crumple them.) You can choose to stick them down straight and neatly lined up, or every which way and overlapping each other a lot.
5. Peel off the remainder of the paper liner. Cover the rest of the frame with green Tissue Squares (not crumpled into balls).
6. Choose colorful Tissue Squares for flowers. Crumple them into balls and glue them onto grass.
7. Optional: Attach an Ez Hang-up hook to the back of your frame for convenient hanging.
